Changes to this privacy policy are discussed at the end of this document. Each time you use our websites, the current version of this privacy policy will apply.

INFORMATION COLLECTED AND USE

We will not sell, exchange, or release users’ personally-identifying data to any third party, except to the extent necessary to comply with applicable laws or valid legal processes, to protect the rights and property of Making Cents, or to provide the services or information a user has requested. The information we collect is used to 1) provide improved online content and services; 2) customize the content and/or layout of our sites for each individual user; 3) to verify or enforce compliance with the policies governing our website and protect against misuse or unauthorized use of our websites; and 4) to process user requests in accordance with expressed consent of the user.

PERSONALLY-IDENTIFYING DATA

Personally-Identifying Data is information such as name or email address that—without more information—can be directly associated with a specific person. Personally-identifying data may be requested if users wish to sign up for email lists, make purchases, register for an event, respond to a survey or access member/organization-restricted sections of a website. Personally-identifying data may include a user’s name, job roles, affiliation, age, gender, postal address, email address, photo, and social media accounts. This information is collected and maintained by Making Cents in accordance with this privacy policy.

Mailing Lists

As part of our business practice, you have the option to receive different informational emails, newsletters, or e-bulletins. We grants users the option to add or remove themselves from Making Cents and affiliated websites’ mailing lists. As a general rule, we do not share information across our websites, platforms, or newsletters.

We use the third-party data processor MailChimp to carry out our mailing list and subscription services. We gather statistics on email opening and clicks using MailChimp’s service in order to help us monitor and improve our mailings. For more information, please see MailChimp’s privacy policy. You can unsubscribe to general mailings at any time by clicking the unsubscribe link at the bottom of any of our emails or by emailing us at info@makingcents.com.

Financial Information

We work with the third-party data processing vendor Stripe to provide processing of credit card transactions. These transactions may require personally-identifying information to process the request in a secure environment. These sites use industry-standard encryption and secure web pages for transmission of credit card information to keep your information secure, accurate, current, and complete. Personally-identifiable data may be shared with Making Cents to allow us to confirm such transactions and/or complete the transaction. Any information received from Stripe is maintained in accordance with this privacy policy. Making Cents does not store credit card information. More information on Stripe's privacy policy can be found at <https://stripe.com/us/privacy>.
